

STAMPEDE FOR COX IS ATTEMPTED AT FRISCO

NEW YORK STATE FREED FROM THE UNIT RULE

Delegates Allowed to Vote As Individuals At Frisco

ACTION SETS UP PRECEDENT

Fight For Break Lead By Schenectady Mayor

SAN FRANCISCO — (By United Press) — Mayor George Lunn, of Schenectady, N. Y., who led the fight which resulted in the Democratic national convention breaking the unit rule, as applied to New York and liberating the delegates to vote as individuals, writes the following account of the achievement for the United Press. The action of the rules committee in freeing the New York delegates, established a precedent and is considered one of the most important preliminary decisions of the convention, which by preventing the New York delegation from being voted as a unit, may have a big part in determining the nomination.

"The unit rule for New York state delegates which was broken by the action of the Democratic national committee Tuesday, had held sway since 1876, with one unsuccessful attempt to break it.

"Last May a meeting was called of all alternates, at which time I introduced a resolution, whereby the majority deprived the minority of the opportunity of voting according to the will of the constituents.

"The resolution was defeated, many delegates believing they were bound by the unit rule, action taken at an official meeting held in February. This entirely unofficial convention assumed the right to his delegates who were to be nominated and elected by the people themselves the following April. This was an attempt completely to nullify the direct primary law of New York state.

"Tuesday the rules committee gave a hearing on the resolution which would free from the operation of a unit rule, the delegates from New York and other states similarly situated, with the result that it recommended favorable to the convention, the resolution whereby the unit rule is held valid except in states where mandatory legislation provided for the election of delegates by the people with congressional districts as the basis of representation. The action of the convention leaves delegates free.

"It is interesting in this connection to read the speech of Hon. W. Bourke Cockran, made at the Democratic national convention in 1884. He was then fighting the unit rule, the now as a delegate in 1920, he favored it. In 1884, he said, 'The unit rule has always been the potent device by which political managers and political engineers have sought to give a false expression to the opinion of the voters of the state and pervert rather than express their voice upon the floor of a deliberative body.'

BROKEN BY G. O. P. IN 1880
"Mr. Cockran then referred to the fact that the Republicans broke the unit rule in 1880, as he wished the Democrats to do in 1884. His description of the odious character of the unit rule abolished by the Republicans, is enlightening. He says:

"The manacles which these political managers sought to put upon the wrists of the delegates in the convention, were broken in that body and the managers who sought to throw the spirit of liberty and free speech, which is the life and soul of democracy, prostrate under the grinding wheels of an odious machine were crushed."

"The world of politics moves and if Mr. Cockran's description of the unit rule is accurate, he will rejoice with the rest of us that freedom now perches on the banner of the New York state delegation."

WOMEN DIVIDED ON LEAGUE

Miss Clay, of Kentucky, Dissented By Her Colleague

SAN FRANCISCO — (By United Press) — The near-split in the ranks of the Democratic women delegates over the league of nations issue, leaves Miss Laura Clay, delegate-at-large for Kentucky, dissented by her colleague, Mrs. Cora Wilson Stewart, the other woman delegate-at-large from the same state.

Miss Clay, at a caucus meeting had urged the women delegates of the convention not to indorse the keynote speech of Homer S. Cummings, which was strongly pro-league.

Mrs. Stewart, in an interview Wednesday, bitterly attacked her colleague on the issue. She said: "We Kentucky women venerate Miss Clay but we do not follow her. She is the most insular person in her way of thinking in our state. Our Kentucky state convention had nations and Miss Clay had accompanied her election as delegate-at-large with that knowledge and understanding. The entire Kentucky delegation was shocked at the position taken by Miss Clay."

SON ADMITS HE KILLED FATHER

Crime Committed Last December Discovered in March

DAYTON — (By United Press.) — Russell R. Gotherman, 22, of near Xenia, was arrested Tuesday night, charged with the murder of his father, James Gotherman, a wealthy farmer, near Xenia, early last December.

The young man, accompanied by a young lady, was arrested as he was purchasing tickets for a theater performance. Taken to police headquarters and directly charged with the crime, he admitted he had killed his father, but showed no concern and expressed no regret. Gotherman explained to the detectives that he and his father quarreled over some cattle. He said his father drew a revolver during the heated argument and in a struggle for possession of the gun, it was discharged and his father fell dead. He carried the body to the house and placed it in bed. The body was not discovered until March 1, when neighbors made an investigation.

Young Gotherman admitted taking $400 in cash which he said he spent. Liberty bonds amounting to $17,400 were in the young man's pocket when arrested.

BRYAN CRUSHED OR BOSS IN FEW HOURS

VICTORY FOR DARK HORSE SEEN

Cummings May Break Expected Deadlock at Frisco

M'ADOO FORCES DIVIDED

Administration Aid Not Helping Former Secretary

BY DAVID LAWRENCE.
SAN FRANCISCO — (Homer Cummings of Connecticut stands out thus far as the dark horse of the Democratic national convention. If McAdoo doesn't win and the delegates are in prolonged deadlock, the remarkable impression made by Cummings in his keynote speech which was full of praise for President Wilson would command him to the large number of delegates who are supporting Palmer and McAdoo out who are at heart for the Wilson policy no matter who the candidate may be. Cummings is a Wilson man and through.

His strategy has made the job of a dark horse just as possible here as it was in California. The same sort of psychological influences are at work as made the Republican convention impatient with deadlocks and anxious to go home. And the tactics of each of the big three leaders—Palmer, Cox and McAdoo, are such as to make entirely possible the wearing down of the strength of each. The McAdoo sympathizers have more enthusiasm than shrewdness. They miss any real leadership and while this is a tribute to the distinctness of McAdoo himself it makes for clumsiness and amateurishness and confusion. For instance it was firmly insisted by La Follette, C. Roper, McAdoo's chief adviser, who is in New York, that no nominating speech be made. This was entirely agreeable to all but a few of the McAdoo supporters here and was the plan until Wed. Then the few persuaded the many that it would be better to have McAdoo's virtues extolled. It was contended that no better opportunity would present itself than to tell all the delegates at one time just why McAdoo should be nominated. And so the decision now is to permit the nominating speech. McAdoo and Roper are powerless to prevent it.

But that isn't the only thing which shows division in the McAdoo ranks. Nobody is apparently able to handle second and third choice votes so that the McAdoo strength may be cumulative. It sounds like an easy thing to do to hold strength in reserve, but the delegates are uncontrollable. They want to go for him on the first ballots. They can't wait. Also the talk of McAdoo has grown so loud that the opponents of the former secretary of the treasury have virtually been forced into a coalition against him. Efforts to form a Palmer and Cox combination with temporary assistance from favorite son groups are proceeding in alarming fashion and the presence here of several cabinet officers all working for McAdoo, has not helped his cause. Down among the delegations, the spontaneous desire for McAdoo is unmistakable and they are prepared to make a hard fight but the big question is how much stamina will these delegates have for prolonged fight such as gave Wilson his triumph at Baltimore in 1912.

Each of the managers is trying to make the other show most strength on the first ballots. Even the Palmer forces are trying to hold back at first and bring their greatest strength to bear on successive ballots. There are also Cox tactics and it looks now as if both had succeeded in forcing McAdoo to take the lead earlier than was expected. Once McAdoo begins to lose and is passed by Cox or Palmer, the enthusiasm of the McAdoo men may be somewhat dampened and then it is not inconceivable that they would turn to a dark horse.

Homer Cummings showed on the second day of the convention that he was just as high in the esteem of the delegates as when he delivered his keynote speech. His appearance on the floor was greeted with loud applause. When he recommended the sending of a telegram of congratulation to the governor of Tennessee because the latter called a special session of the legislature to ratify the woman suffrage amendment there was instantaneous approval. But the effectiveness of Cummings was apparent a second time when the convention had tabled a resolution enlarging the Democratic National committee to include one woman from each state. Evidently some of the old line politicians didn't want it done but Cummings with a brief and convincing statement told the convention that its sincerity on the woman suffrage issue would be questioned if it refused.

Wilson now second in Wall-st betting on results of the Democratic convention Wednesday, continued to favor William G. McAdoo with odds of 9 to 5 quoted against his selection.

President Wilson, in view of the demonstration accorded him at San Francisco, moved to second place with odds of 2 to 1 against his re-nomination. Previously, odds against Wilson's choice were 20 to 1.

Governor Cox, Ohio, was third, with odds of 3 to 1 against him.

WILSON NOW SECOND IN WALL-ST BETTING

NEW YORK — Wall-st betting on results of the Democratic convention Wednesday, continued to favor William G. McAdoo with odds of 9 to 5 quoted against his selection.

PLATFORM STILL IN EMBRYO

Leading Problems Remain Unsolved by Sub-Committee

SAN FRANCISCO — (By Associated Press) — The Democratic platform still was in embryonic stage, but with prospects of presentation Thursday to the convention when the platform builders reassembled Wednesday.

Altho many minor planks had been virtually settled, some in principle only, and others in phraseology as well, most of the troublesome major problems remained unsolved when the sub-committee of nine preparing a tentative draft reconvened Wednesday at 9:30 after less than eight hours rest.

With the meeting of the full resolutions committee scheduled for 10 o'clock, the sub-committee arranged to meet with the main body, report partial progress and then resume its labors. By afternoon or night Chairman Glass said, it was hoped to go finally before the full committee where long spirited discussion was in prospect. With a late session tonight, leaders hoped to be able to bring the completed product before the convention Thursday.

The convention proceedings will not interfere with the platform committee continuing their work without interruption as the program calls for the delivery of presidential nominating speeches which will consume virtually all of today's session.

The league of nations and prohibition remained the big barriers to adjustment of the league question, however, was said to be in a fair way of realization.

Some of the sub-committee were optimistic over prospects of harmony on this fundamental dispute. They had "slept on" administration and other proposed planks stuffed in their pockets when their meeting broke up shortly before 2 o'clock this morning, and it was asserted by influential sub-committee members that the tentative recommendation of the league and treaty plank would go to the full committee with virtually substantial agreement. Some of the more hopeful even expressed the view that the threatened fight in the full committee might be averted.

On prohibition the sub-committee remained largely at sea. All suggestions for a "wet" plank which would declare for repeal of the eighteenth amendment or annulment of the Volstead enforcement law were said to have been virtually thrown overboard by tacit consent in the sub-committee but the fight for a "beer and wine" plank on one hand and some sort of a prohibition declaration on the other was still in progress.

No basis for settlement of the liquor dispute was reported in sight when the sub-committee resumed work. The drys were said to be insistent upon a prohibition expression "if only to the extent of a plank promising enforcement of the constitution and laws generally and not specifically. The proposal to keep the platform entirely silent on the subject also was still prominently discussed.

Altho Chairman Glass said none of the proposed planks had yet been adopted definitely by the sub-committee, considerable of the uncontested sections were reported practically complete. Among these were commendation of many acts of the Wilson administration, the executive bureaus and the records of the Democrats in congress, together with attacks on the Republican legislative course.

WORKMAN FALLS EIGHT FLOORS TO HIS DEATH

AKRON — Joe Costino, 40, died at 10 o'clock Tuesday night from injuries received when he fell eight stories in a building material hoist at the second national bank building Tuesday afternoon.

Hospital authorities, twelve hours after the patient was admitted to the city hospital, were unable to state the extent of Costino's injuries. He was carrying a wheelbarrow load of fire up the hoist and as he passed the eighth story the cable broke and the hoist crashed to the ground.

COLBY FOR DAMP PLANK, REPORT

Battle Between Wilson Men and Nebraskan Nears Showdown

NO LIQUOR VOTE YET, CLAIM

Rumors As to Action On Prohibition Denied

SAN FRANCISCO — (By United Press) — Within 48 hours William J. Bryan will have been crushed by the administration tank that is rumbling across the Democratic battlefield here Wednesday, or he will have climbed to the driver's seat according to every indication on the various fronts.

The fight between Bryan and President Wilson for control of the Democratic convention became more intense Wednesday with the report that Secretary of State Colby, representing the president, is working for a damp plank in the platform.

The Wilson and Bryan forces already are engaged in the bitter strife over the question whether the convention shall endorse the league of nations. But even the league is overshadowed by Bryan's estimation by the wet-dry issue.

The report that Colby had a wet plank is based on the impression that the administration favors modification of the Volstead act. It is recalled that Wilson vetoed war-time prohibition.

REPORTS DENIED
Colby is on the sub-committee drafting the platform plank while Bryan is not. Therefore, the latter is expected to save most of his ammunition for the open fight which is looked for on the convention floor when the platform comes up for approval there.

Many conflicting reports were in circulation Wednesday shortly before the sub-committee met at 9:30 a. m. to resume work on the platform.

Chairman Glass emphatically denied a widespread report that the sub-committee had rejected a wet plank 6 to 3. Glass said no action had been taken and no decisions had been reached at the meeting which broke up at 2 a. m.

Another rumor was that a plank calling for repeal of the prohibition act had been voted down and another that the majority of the sub-committee members were against taking a definite stand for either the wets or drys.

Bryan is waging the fight of his life. On the liquor issue, it is apparent that he has a chance to win, but on the league issue, it looks as if he has been back to the wall.

WON'T COMPROMISE
Administration forces are not considering a compromise with the Nebraskan, firmly believing they can beat him in the committee and on the floor. Bryan's direct challenge to Wilson on the league issue, delivered in his speech at the Jackson Day banquet at Washington last January, has not been forgotten. The Wilson leaders evidently want to eliminate him from politics and are determined to annihilate him in the present encounter, adequate punishment for attempting to seize party control from the president, in the opinion of Bryan's friends.

If Bryan is decisively beaten in the liquor fight, his opponents will feel that he has been definitely crushed politically. This view, however, would obliterate all chances of Bryan influencing the nomination or holding a veto power over any candidate.

Should Bryan prove victor in the liquor fight after a spectacular counter there is no doubt that he would be the biggest single figure in the convention and the party and that his advice on the nomination would be sought. There even were rumors of a Bryan boom in that event. After having captured the convention on the wet-dry issue the Commander, it is predicted would oppose nomination of McAdoo, Cox or Palmer.

WOMEN ESCAPE PRISON

Saw Lock and Slide Down Knotted Blankets

AKRON — Three women prisoners escaped from the women's ward on the second floor of county jail Tuesday night, by sawing a lock on a door leading into the corridor of the ward.

They opened an unbarred window and let themselves to the ground with knotted blankets taken from their cots.

The women are Marie Hamilton, sentenced for pocket picking and still having six weeks to serve; Pearl Anderson and Carrie Childs, sentenced as women of the streets.

OHIO GOVERNOR DEMANDED BY CONVENTION GALLERIES

AUDITORIUM, SAN FRANCISCO — (By United Press) — A determined effort to stampede the Democratic convention for Governor Cox of Ohio, was in full swing as Chairman Robinson called the delegates to order at 11:20 a. m., Wednesday to hear nominating speeches.

Cox rosters in the gallery dominated the situation with college yells and a song shout, "We'll nominate Cox or know the reason why."

Rabbi Meyer delivered the invocation while the crowd stood.

The immense throng, one moment surging about the aisles and yelling for Cox, Palmer and McAdoo and other candidates, was instantly silenced as the Rabbi began praying.

Rabbi Meyer read his prayer in a deep, resonant voice that was easily heard in the furthest galleries.

When the last words of the invocation had died away the band and the organ boomed forth with the national anthem and the delegates and visitors stood quietly as the first verse was concluded. On the second hundreds joined in the chorus and sang the entire anthem.

Debate King, of Utah, was recognized by the chair.

King explained that when resolutions for seating of delegates were presented Tuesday the canal zone was omitted in the official apportionment of delegates for the next convention. He offered a resolution correcting the error. It was adopted.

Chairman Robinson then called for nominations and the call of states was begun.

Alabama passed and Arizona yielded to Oklahoma.

Senator Robert L. Owen, of Oklahoma was the first presidential candidate to be presented to the convention.

D. R. Hayden-Linbaugh, Oklahoma, delivered the speech that formally placed the name of the Oklahoma senator in the Democratic list.

Linbaugh was well received by the floor, which joined the galleries in a hearty round of handclapping when the speaker was presented by Chairman Robinson.

Linbaugh, a young man with humorous wrinkles in his face, clad in a business suit, made a straight away business address. His gestures were few and informal, an occasional thump of his fist on the reading stand, or a shaking of that fist on high, emphasized his points.

Gerard, former ambassador to Germany, Senator Owen of Oklahoma, John W. Davis, ambassador to Great Britain.

AD OHIOANS CHIEF
The growing boom of Cummings, however, fought, with it a forecast of opposition from Bryan, who some time ago denounced the national chairman for making a speech at a banquet given for Governor Edwards, an avowed wet candidate. The chairman's friends also were not unkindful that his connection as a lawyer with large business interests would furnish Bryan with an opportunity to use one of his favorite weapons in a convention—a blast at big business.

But whatever the varying strength of the candidates may be, the fact still stands out as the convention gets down to the business of making a choice, that the prohibition and league of nations issue looms in the background, still remain predominant factors and that their disposition is still inseparably linked with the choosing of a candidate.

The decision of the platform sub-committee last night in disregarding the request for wet plank calling for the repeal of the Volstead act, reduced the issue to whether there should be a beer and wine plank or a bone dry declaration as is hoped by William J. Bryan, or ignore the subject entirely.

There are some who feel that the convention would do well to pass the subject entirely as the Republicans did at Chicago, but that conflicts directly with Bryan's announced intention to have "a platform no wet can run on."

PROHIBITION ISSUE
Whether Bryan hopes to win or not, he intends to fight in the open fashion which has furnished fireworks for many a Democratic convention. He stands by his determination to force every delegate to record his or her vote individually on the issue if a plank which he considers "wet" is to be taken into the platform. Altho the White House has kept its hands off the prohibition fight, there are administration leaders on the ground who, while opposing Bryan's bone dry plank on the one hand are outspoken in their determination that the convention shall do no "pu' floating," but shall make a clear cut decision one way or the other.

Chief among these is Postmaster General Burleigh. It is understood they are not eager for a roll call on the issue. There has been an informal question and even the most ardent wets agree that on a test vote a majority of the convention would be recorded for a dry plank. The more optimistic of the dry leaders say their defeat would be by a majority of 70 votes and some of them estimate the majority as high as 200.

The sub-committee of nine actually framing the platform worked thru the night, altho without promise of bringing out the document to day but with hope of being able to get into position to pursue its work to finality with the full membership of the resolutions committee.

FIRST SNAG STRUCK
The first snag was struck when Senator Walsh of Montana, who was generally regarded as Bryan's choice for the committee chairmanship, but who withdrew without a contest in favor of Senator Glass, the administration selection, opposed the plan of having the drafting committee go ahead before obtaining the views of the full committee.

It was no secret that Senator Glass brought from Washington virtually

FARMER COMBINE FORMING

Ohio Taxation Program Being Prepared by Committees

COLUMBUS, O. — (By Associated Press) — Committees were at work Wednesday attempting to bring together several state-wide organizations, including the state Grange and other rural organizations, on the question of a state-wide taxation program. The committees were named yesterday at a meeting here of representatives of the various organizations.

Representatives of both a classification tax amendment and anti-classificationists were represented. It developed the rural organizations would oppose re-submission of a class tax amendment and proponents of classification did not insist on such a course.

The opposing factions did not agree to try to work out a plan for financial relief for cities. A committee composed of Judge Rufus Smith of Cincinnati, L. J. Taber of Barnesville, president of the state Grange, and Clarence Lavlin of Columbus, was named to frame a law to suspend operation of the Smith tax limit law for a period of five years. Other committees were appointed to draft laws and constitutional amendments, if necessary, to provide for a real budget system and also for strict debt limitation laws for taxing districts.

It was arranged to call a general state conference later. J. B. Wiles of Portsmouth, presided over yesterday's meeting.

TOLEDOANS PROVE FINE HOSTS

Merchants' Outing at Cedar Point Is Big Success

Members of the Lima Merchants' association enjoyed their second annual outing at Cedar Point, Tuesday together with a delegation from the Columbus association as guests of the Toledo Merchants' association of Toledo.

Forty-three members of the Lima association started from Lima at 4:30 Tuesday morning arriving in Toledo at 7:35, where they were met by a delegation of the Toledo merchants and taken on a special car to the docks where they boarded the steamer, State of Ohio, for Cedar Point. They arrived at Cedar Point at 1 o'clock after a bounteous meal aboard the boat.

Thirty members of the Columbus association attended the outing, making a total of 297 merchants from the three cities.

Everything possible was done by the Toledo merchants to make the day enjoyable for the local merchants who unanimously voted their appreciation to the Toledoans.

Fred N. Goosman head of the Toledo merchants, acted as overseer of the festivities and is given credit for the perfect arrangement of entertainment. Captain Ralph Spurrier of the State of Ohio, relinquished the head gear hearing a captain's insignia to Mr. Goosman who took charge and made the boosters comfortable.

Toledo merchants also furnished a band and orchestra for the boat trip. After spending the afternoon swimming in Lake Erie, the local merchants were about to return to the boat when a heavy storm broke in on their otherwise perfect day. After all members had successfully braved the storm and reached the boat another near accident happened. Just as the boat left the dock a heavy wind changed direction and carried the boat onto a sand bar. It was only after the crew had worked for more than an hour that the boat was again started on her way.

Secretary J. E. Morion today expressed the regret that more of the Lima Retail Merchants did not take advantage of the invitation of the Toledo merchants.

Before reaching Lima on the return trip the Lima Merchants gave votes of thanks to F. E. Caldwell of the steamship company, Mr. Goosman and the Toledo merchants for the best outing they have ever had the pleasure to attend. Jimmy Morion says that next year there will be five members go where one went this year.

FIGHT OPENS C FAKE SOLICITORS

Chamber of Commerce War Against Unworthy Projects

A campaign has been launched by the Lima chamber of commerce for the protection of business against unscrupulous advertising solicitors, solicitors for donations, subscriptions, etc., according to Secretary Irving B. Lincoln.

At the last meeting of the board of directors, he said, they authorized the printing of cards warning solicitors that they must have endorsement of the chamber of commerce before their proposition will be given consideration. These cards are to be furnished members.

A special statement being prepared by the chamber states one out of every three "propositions" presented by unknown solicitors are unworthy and one out of every four a false statement. The chamber of commerce will give their endorsement to those who after investigation prove to be worthy.

HAVANA IS BUSY, PROSPEROUS

Cuban Capital Shows Effect of People's Industry

HAVANA.—Havana is happy and carefree these days. It ought to be. It never was so prosperous. And while thousands upon thousands of dollars were left in Cuba by American and European tourists last winter—dollars freely spent by opulent business men and sportsmen—the island republic has not been satisfied to pocket that amount and bask in its tropical sunshine in idleness. It has been at work. It is working hard today.

Hardly does a visitor to beautiful Havana—so Spanish to the core in tradition and appearance—pass old Morro castle and enter the harbor before he gets the lasting impression that Cuba is prosperous—but busy. Tugs, launches, lighters and ferries are constantly scurrying across the water from pier to ship and ship to pier. Cranes are busy loading and unloading the big vessels crowded into the heretofore ample harbor. Ashore it is the same. The city's real population of about 425,000 appears double that number as people rush through the narrow streets that form the old-town section. Neatly uniformed and polite traffic officers direct the steady stream of pedestrians and automobiles and street cars up one street and down another in a fashion that puts New York and Chicago in the "joker" class. Shops, banks, restaurants, saloons are crowded.

Today more than three-quarters of Cuba's foreign commerce is with the United States. In 1918 Cuba's total foreign trade was $682,408,000. Of this amount $499,498,000 was with the United States. The balance of trade is in favor of Cuba, in its dealings with the world. The island's total imports in the same year amounted to $202,624,000, while its exports totaled $379,784,000.

In comparison with 20 years ago, Cuba's foreign trade has increased about 700 per cent, while in the last ten years it has tripled in value. In 1900 the total of imports and exports was $116,910,000. In 1910 it was $217,485,000.

EXPRESS ROBBED OF $59,725

Bandits Secure U. S. Payroll
Cash in Georgia

AUGUSTA, Ga. — An express car on the Charleston and Western Carolina railroad was reported robbed near here early Wednesday by bandits who gagged and bound an express messenger, and a guard and made away with $59,725, constituting the payroll for the marines at the Paris Island, S. C., station. The money had been expressed under guard from Atlanta and was transferred here to the Charleston and Western Carolina train which left Augusta at 5:15 a. m. When a few miles out of the city in the Savannah river bottom, it is claimed, the holdup men entered the express car, overpowered the messenger E. R. Derrick and the armed guard, W. M. Roberts and then threw the safe containing the money out of the door.

fused to permit women to have a voice in the councils of the party. The motion was passed with a general demonstration of approval. And there the Democrats have given the women something which the Republicans denied them at Chicago. Every state will have a woman on the Democratic National committee, not merely in an advisory capacity as heretofore, but with equal voting power with the male members.

When the convention had adjourned for the day and the delegates went back to their hotels, they found hand bills reading as follows:

"How about Homer Cummings for president of the United States? His keynote speech has already won for him the presidency through the land. Today he personifies the victory of Democracy at the polls — give him the game as well as the name. Put aside petty prejudice and consider in terms of party success and you will see that Homer Cummings' words of today will ring around the world, the truly great utterances of the truly great leader of the 1920 Democracy. A great moment has produced a great man. America needs Homer Cummings for president."

The posters were signed by "San Francisco Civilian Democrats" but the Connecticut delegation which has endorsed Cummings for president probably had something to do with it. The delegates are talking more about Cummings than any other dark horse the Vice President Marshall and Champ Clark are mentioned by the anti-administration forces, and some of the conservative elements in the party who are restive under Wilson leadership. The situation may well arise when Palmer and McAdoo and Cox may be unable to get two-thirds. The consideration of dark horses would bring the Palmer and McAdoo men close together to nominate a Wilson man. That would make Homer Cummings logical. His chances are much better than those of Will Hays at Chicago when the dark horse talk began but the prospect of nominating a dark horse is still nebulous. The McAdoo supporters feel highly encouraged by the breaking of the unit rule in New York state. George Lunn and Assistant Secretary of the Navy Franklin Roosevelt fought a successful battle in the rules committee and now it is possible for New York's 90 votes to be split up. Charlie Murphy's power is diminished. He will try to hold his delegation together for Governor Al. Smith on the theory that a deadlock may yield the nomination to the New York governor. He will hold that over the heads of recalcitrant delegates but the number which probably will go to McAdoo in that New York delegation is about 25. There are also Cox and Palmer.

Murphy may be able to keep 65 votes for Al. Smith indefinitely but once released from that pledge, there is no telling to which candidate New York will ultimately throw her votes. As matters stand, McAdoo is in the lead but no one in his camp here can demonstrate mathematically or otherwise where the full two-thirds is coming from. And if McAdoo doesn't win the prize, neither Palmer nor Cox will, but someone like Cummings will be exhibited as a compromise.

Flashlights on the Frisco Camp

BY LAMBERT ST. CLAIR

SAN FRANCISCO — It is rumored that the artist who painted the convention picture of President Wilson got his inspiration from George Harvey's Weekly.

The man who attempted during a demonstration to beat Senator Pomerene with a toy balloon is known to the authorities.

Among delegates complaining of convention fatigue are the Tammany men who attempted to prevent the stalwart Franklin Roosevelt from parading with the New York standard during the Wilson demonstration.

Pat O'Keefe, of Dallas, came all the way up here, despite his 65 years, to do a buck and wing dance on the convention platform and then the convention officials would not let him perform on that choice spot. Pat danced on the floor, but his style was badly cramped by lack of space.

Sarah Bard Field, Suffragist extraordinaire, sat in the Press box, dressed in garments colored as a Navajo blanket dipped in rainbow dew.

Louder than thunder is the band of 50 Coltrina National command from Missouri.

"Higher education and climate is the head ushers explanation of the beauty of the hundred girl ushers who make others cheerful even during the speeches by looking so grand."

Senator Pat Harrison found $175 in a hotel lobby today and a minute later the owner found Pat. If he finds any more dough he is going to start home immediately.

Joe Daniels, of the Navy, got blisters on his hands and face applauding and smiling at the nice things Hon. Cummings said about the administration.

As often is the case with persons called to the platform Chairman Cummings seated way down in front, could find only a long way to the stage. It led him half way around the hall in full view of the galleries.

Apolofy threatened Jimmy Callahan the Massachusetts congressman when the Irish plank was mentioned. It was the first interest he had taken in the proceeding because applauding the administration is not one of Jim's habits.

Veteran folks, who always thought they saw Charlie Murphy, Tammany leader on the floor today, that he had horns and hoofs, were surprised to identify him as the fat, benign party in Vici Kid shoes and specs that hook over the ears, who slid into his seat as quietly as a dandelion goes to seed.

Mitch, Palmer's publicity boys fixed every delegate with a fair bearing. Mitch's face and then the weather turned so cool that nobody could use them.

An incipient boom for Tom Marshall, weight 120 pounds, and Cy Cummings of Maryland who scales 320, was started today. "A bigger man for vice-president," is its slogan.

Secretary Bainbridge Colby might still be wandering aimlessly around the corridor if a pretty gal in a green sweater had not rescued him.

Bill White, of Emporia, Kansas, offers a job as obituary editor on his paper to any defeated candidate. The work of that department has become too gloomy for Walt Mason.

Obadiah Dubb, fearing the convention will vote dry, now is advocating a fifty percent alcohol content for perfume plank.

SAN FRANCISCO — A courtified individual, who introduced himself in a husky voice as "the house officer of this hotel," had a lot of fun going around the Palace corridors, ordering people to stop standing on chairs to view the assorted demonstrations. The business of electing a president paled into insignificance in his estimation when compared with preserving the properties of that hostelry.

Governor Edwards has at least one shout. He follows the Cox choristers around and every time they pause for breath, he does a solo cheer for Edwards.

"I want to be around where there is a scrap going on," was the explanation of her presence at the Democratic conclave by Mrs. Isabel Vernon Cook, Republican "boss" of the seventh assembly district of New York state. "So that's why I'm here and believe me if there's going to be a fight over the wet and dry plank, I'll probably get into it," Mrs. Cook said.

As a result of the influx of 10,000 easterners into the convention city, San Francisco is seeing strawberries and canes in such large quantities and assortments as she never saw before. The effect on local bean brumrels is noticeable. The limited supply of straw hats and canes in the stores is being rapidly exhausted.

POLYGAMY PASSE COX STAMPEDE IS IN PHILIPPINES ATTEMPTED

Official Declares Practice Disappearing Thru Education.

MANILA, P. I. — Practice of polygamy in the Philippine Islands is being reduced thru education of girls of the leading families of the outlying provinces, according to Frank W. Carpenter, retiring governor of the department of Mindanao and Sulu.

Carpenter is here to turn over administration of his office to the secretary of the interior who will act thru the bureau of non-Christian tribes in accordance with a new territorial law.

This law goes in effect a treaty under which the sultan of Sulu renounced all pretensions to temporal sovereignty, but gained recognition as ecclesiastical head of the Mohammedan church in the Sulu archipelago. The treaty guarantees to the sultan and his people "the same religious freedom had by all adherents of all other religious creeds, the practice of which is not in violation of the basic principles of the laws of the United States."

"It is important to note," said Carpenter, "one of his messages written as governor, 'that this includes a limitation as to religious practice which necessarily includes the abandonment of Polygamy. There can be no question that it will disappear as the relative number of persons of the two sexes reach an approximate natural equality.'"

"An effort to impose upon the people of the sultan at this time the invalidation of polygamous marriages heretofore contracted, the prohibition at this time of polygamy or the discontinuance of divorce, must unavoidably result in the active resistance of a people imbued with fanatic determination to die rather than submit to a deprivation of their religious liberty in matters they believe to be fundamental and sanctioned by Allah and His prophet."

STEEL STRIKE IS ORDERED

GIARD, Ohio, — Officials of the Lodge here of the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel and Tin Workers said Wednesday they had received instructions from Pittsburgh headquarters to cease work Wednesday night unless a new wage agreement were signed before midnight by the conference of manufacturers and Amalgamated representatives at Columbus.

FOUR NEGROES KILLED AS POSSES SEARCH FOR MURDERER OF SHERIFF

HOUSTON, Tex. — Four negroes were killed near here early Wednesday by posses hunting the murderer of Sheriff Kemp, deputy sheriff of S. A. McCormick, deputy sheriff of Wharton, Texas, according to word here. Washington Giles and his brother, accused of the murder, were shot by a posse, headed by Sheriff Kemp, near Diamond Mound. Two other negroes alleged to have aided them to escape, were found hanging from a tree limb near Wharton, advices said.

McCormick was killed when he attempted to arrest Giles for a misdemeanor Saturday night. The situation at Wharton was described as tense.

BONDSMEN OF FORMER CITY TREASURER ARE SUE

WARREN, Ohio — City Solicitor R. A. Lettingwell late Tuesday turned over another page in the notorious Kistler case in which the former treasurer of Warren embezzled $50,000 of the city's funds. The solicitor entered suit in common pleas court against Kistler's bondsmen to recover the $50,000 security posted to insure the treasurer's faithful performance of duty. The petition states that since Kistler filed the unexpected term of John C. Krasley in 1913, he had not in any subsequent year taken oath of office nor had he qualified according to statutes. The solicitor claims that Kistler's failure to perform his duties as required and due to the fact that he embezzled money his bondsmen must forfeit the $50,000 required for bond for this office.

HARDING AND COOLIDGE CONFER UPON CAMPAIGN PLANS TO BE FOLLOWED

WASHINGTON — Senator Harding of Ohio and Governor Coolidge of Massachusetts met Wednesday for the first time since the Chicago convention selected them as the party standard bearers for 1920.

Arriving here late Tuesday night, Governor Coolidge was the guest of the senator. Breakfast and dinner accompanied the presidential nominee to his office at the capitol for the first of the conference between the two candidates. Chairman Hays of the Republican national committee also arrived here and will take part in some of the conferences.

Subjects to be discussed by the two candidates are understood to include the addresses to be given at the coming notification ceremonies and plans for the campaign.

PRIMARY HEARING DELAYED

COLUMBUS — Because the time set, would have conflicted with the closing session of the Republican state convention, Secretary of State Smith Wednesday morning postponed until Wednesday afternoon, hearing of protests against the candidacy of Harry Clay Smith, Cleveland colored editor, and Harold C. Smith, Elyria, candidates for the Republican nomination for secretary of state.

The drafting committee started out with a plan to go ahead with the planks brought by Senator Glass and leading up to the drafting and it was

Senator Walsh, it was understood that program by insisting that before the drafting committee could go ahead with its work, it would necessarily have to gather the views of the membership of the entire committee formed in the light of the hearings held publicly. Mr. Walsh contended that the drafting committee was merely an instrument to reduce to writing the views of the full committee and that it could not proceed without learning them. That slowed down the proceedings considerably until today when the individual members could be called in. Meanwhile the sub-committee continues to work in secret on other phases leading up to the drafting and it was

GOVERNOR COX MAKES HIT

ALTHOUGH he has been strongly urged by his friends to attend the Democratic convention at San Francisco, where he may be nominated to bear the standards of his party in the next Presidential campaign, Governor James M. Cox has declined and thereby has made a decided hit with the public. His reasons set forth for not attending the great convention cannot be construed to mean anything but that he has the welfare of the nation as well as his state at heart and does not desire to detract from the dignity of the high office for which he is a candidate in any way. It is this which has made him friends from one end of the country to the other.

In summing up his reasons for not attending he said: "I cannot depart from my decision not to attend the Democratic national convention. A becoming dignity is not dependent upon any precedent. I am not a delegate, neither am I a member of the committee on arrangements nor an official of the convention, and my attendance could be fraught with but one meaning. The spectacle of Presidential candidates extending personalities into the deliberations of the greatest unofficial governmental body in the world degrades the high office for which nomination is to be made, and detracts from the cool and deliberate judgment necessary for the best possible presentation. I have confidence that our convention will adopt a forward looking platform that means something and select a candidate representative thereof who can be elected and guarantee a continuance of the glorious record of Democratic administrations."

What could be more unselfish in a leading candidate than his determination to remain away from what promises to be the most momentous meeting in his life—a meeting where he probably will be chosen as a candidate for the highest office in his land? It is a pleasure most of us would enjoy, but the fact that this great statesman is giving it up in order that what he believes a sacred duty may be carried out unimpeded indicates the stuff of which he is made and the reason men are calling for him for the nomination throughout the nation.

WILLIE HOPPE, TEACHER

SOME one once said, "Proficiency in billiards is evidence of a misspent youth." There is a certain catchiness in this statement that it has taken hold and is accepted as truth, whereas, it is subject to qualification. It is as inaccurate as it stands, as most generalizations are.

The most proficient billiard player in the world, the most proficient the world has ever seen, is Willie Hoppe, to whom the current American Magazine devotes several pages. His life has certainly not been mispent. It is much to him and his example may be much to thousands of young men who have never touched a billiard cue and will probably never do so.

His life teaches such a lesson in clean-living as cannot be impressed from the pulpit, such a lesson in temperance as all the temperance orators that have addressed multitudes have never conveyed, and such a lesson in concentration of thought and purpose as the philosopher could never impart.

Hoppe has never tasted liquor; he couldn't use tobacco in any form if he desired to do so. He cannot do anything that would tend to lessen the perfect co-ordination of mind and body that has placed him at the head of all billiard-ists. He lives for his family and billiards and he feels an enjoyment in the possession of his position as master from which he knows that nothing but years and infirmity can remove him. A $100,000 insurance policy on his hands protects him in some measure against accident.

It may be argued that his vocation is not a useful one. So are not useful, in the sense that they are necessary many others in which men have risen to acknowledged thrones of commerce, finance and industry. The manufacture of baseballs, bats, tennis balls, golf balls and boxing gloves is not a necessary industry; nor is the manufacture of billiard tables an essential industry. Certainly the manufacture of intoxicating liquors was not one. The positions of men who become millionaires thru their operations as brokers and of middlemen in commodities which people must have are often worse than non-essential. They have too often been only lairs of beasts of prey. They have been rendered respectable only by financial success. And, if financial well-being is evidence of respectability, the profession of Hoppe is highly respectable.

But the highest respectability of the profession as it is represented by Hoppe is in the lesson it teaches in clean-living, in being a sound body for a sound mind, in its lesson of self-expression in its lesson of concentration. It may be urged that if Hoppe had developed these great qualities in some other line he might have been a Napoleon in commerce, in industry, in finance or in the arts. Perhaps so, but the lesson he could have conveyed there would have been no more convincing and we do not think so simple and impressive as that which is offered by him now to young men.

Time is wasted on billiards as it may be on anything else by half-heartedness, by inattention, by those who do not keep themselves in condition; by those who devote time to a recreation that should be given to a vocation or an avocation, and especially is time wasted on billiards by booze hounds and cigarette fiends.

ONLY ONE DEFINITE ISSUE

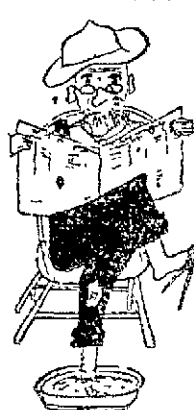

WHEN Senator Robinson, accepting the permanent chairmanship of the Democratic convention at San Francisco, said the Republican platform "is an amazing jumble of ambiguities, inconsistencies, evasions, misrepresentations, straddles and slanders," he covered the ground completely and summed up the entire platform of the G. O. P. in a comprehensive manner.

The platform written at Chicago is the weakest ever submitted by any major political party. It fails to have the ring of clear convictions such as has characterized platforms of the past when really great statesmen fought earnestly and sincerely for what they believed the paramount issues of the day. The Republican platform cannot be nailed down to anything except, as Senator Robinson says, the hymn of hate for the President.

The Democratic chairman in taking up the planks inserted at Chicago showed their absurdity and weakness. He was able to do this not only to the satisfaction of the entire Democratic party, but also to a big percentage of the Republicans who are disgusted and disappointed with the work of their convention.

JUDITH of BLUE LAKE RANCH

By JACKSON GREGORY

THE CAPTURE OF SHORTY

IT came about, quite as matters often do, that at the three-mile distant ranch headquarters it was one who knew comparatively little of the ways of this part of the world who was first to suspect that all was not well with Judith Sanford. To Pollock Hampton her failure to appear at dinner was significant.

Together with the other newcomers to the ranch from the city he had been deeply moved by yesterday's outburst. Drawing upon a vivid imagination, he peopled the woods with desperate characters. When after dinner an hour passed without bringing Judith, he began to show signs of nervous anxiety. Without making his fears known to his friends, he went to the office and telephoned to Doc Tripp. All that Tripp could tell him was that he didn't know where Judith was and didn't care, she could take care of herself. Tho the veterinarian didn't say so much, he was at the moment puzzled by the new sickness among the hogs and his irritable concern in this matter allowed him scant interest in other people's affairs.

Hampton learned from Mrs. Simpson that in the afternoon Judith after a hurried lunch had taken her rifle and ridden away. Where? Mrs. Simpson, did not know. But she grasped the opportunity to confide in Hampton a certain suspicion which she held in connection with the robbery and killing of Bud Lee's horse under him—a suspicion which was growing rapidly into positive certainty. She didn't like to mention the matter to him, since Fuijoki was his servant. But had he noted Fuijoki and that other black Spaniard, Jose? They had a community of interest which must extend far beyond racial kinship, they were even at this very second, out in the courtyard together talking in subdued voices. Mrs. Simpson had been raised a lady. Mr. Hampton, sir, and she knew that in the best families one was not supposed to eavesdrop. But at a time like this. Well, she had crept up behind the lilac-bushes and they were speaking guardedly about the hold-up. Almost in whispers, with every sign of guilt.

"Hurried lunch?" said Hampton. "Took her rifle, did she?"

His eyes had grown very serious as he stared down into Mrs. Simpson's concerned face.

"Send Jose to me," was what he said next.

"Aren't you afraid, Mr. Hampton?" she exclaimed, picturing to herself this pleasant young gentleman at death-grips with the sombre Jose.

However, she obeyed and called Jose whom Hampton merely sent to the men's quarters with word for Carson and Lee to come to the house. Mrs. Simpson, witnessing the bloodless meeting from the hallway, was a little relieved and very much disappointed.

Hampton strode up and down the office, the frown gathering upon his usually smooth brows. Plainly if something had happened to Judith the present responsibility lay upon his shoulders as next in authority.

"Here I am," announced Carson briefly. "What is it?"

"I am a little worried, Carson," said Hampton, "about Miss Sanford." "Huh?" grunted the old cattle-man.

"Judith hasn't put in an appearance and it's growing late," continued Hampton hastily. "I'm afraid—"

"Afraid? Afraid of what? You don't think she eloped with your Jay or stole the spoons, do you?" snapped Carson. He had been interrupted at the crucial point in a game of cribbage with Poker Face and the cattleman's weak spot was cribbage.

"Where is Lee?" questioned Hampton sharply. "I told Jose I wanted the two of you. Why didn't he come?"

"Dunno," answered Carson, still without interest. "I ain't seen him. Wasn't in for supper."

"I tell you," cried Hampton, angry at Carson's quiet acceptance of facts which to him were darkly significant. "He, too, was out with his rifle today; I saw him myself. Now he fails to show up! Don't you see what all this points to?"

Carson, who seldom lost his poise with one-half of his brain still given over to the hand he meant to play with Poker Face, merely sighed and shook his head.

"I'm real busy down at the bunkhouse, Mr. Hampton," at last came his quiet answer, "where me an' Poker Face is figuring out something important. As for worrying about a man like Bud Lee or a girl like Judy, why, I just ain't going to do it a-tall. Most likely if you'll call up the Lower End—"

"I've done it!" Whirling in his impatient stride across the room, Hampton came swiftly to Carson's side. "They're not there. They left the Lower End this afternoon and came on here. Then, both armed, they rode away again at four or five o'clock. I tell you, man, something has happened to them."

"Don't believe it," retorted Carson. "Nor for one little half-minute. I don't. What's to happen?"

"You know as well as I do what sort of characters are about. The man who robbed Charlie Miller—who shot at Bud Lee—" "Whoa!" grinned Carson. "Don't you go and fool yourself. That stick-up gent is a clean hundred miles from here right now an' still going real lively. If any other jasper lent him a hand, why, he's on his way, too. Not stopping to pick flowers. It's the way them kind plays the game."

Carson was so cheerfully certain, so amused at the thought of Bud Lee and Judith Sanford requiring anybody's assistance, so confident concerning the methods of outlaws, that finally Hampton sent him away, half assured, and went himself to his friends in the living room. Here he found the major and Mrs. Langworthy reading and yawning. Marcia laughed at a jest of Farris's, while Rogers sought to interest her in himself. The every day, home-like atmosphere had its effect in allaying his picturesque fears. Hampton noted how her handful of days in the country had done Marcia a world of good, putting fresh, warm color in her rather pale cheeks, breeding a new sparkle in her eyes. She was good to look upon.

He let half an hour slip in restless inactivity. For, no matter what Carson might say or these people in here do, Judith had not come in. When Marcia addressed a bright remark to him, he started and stammered: "I beg your pardon!" They laughed at him, saying that Pollock Hampton was growing absent-minded in his old age. But their banter failed to reach him; he was telling himself that some accident might have befallen one or both of two persons whom he frankly admired for their efficiency.

By half past eight they had caught his uneasiness. At every little sound they turned expectantly. Still no Judith. Mrs. Simpson, comfortable woman that she was, came in, bustling with apprehension. Mrs. Langworthy shook off for a little her listlessness and recounted how she had watched "that girl" riding like a wild Indian toward the Upper End. Perhaps her gun had gone off accidentally.

"Or," she concluded with a touch of venom, "it wouldn't be above her to run off with that long horse foreman."

"Eh?" said the major. "Don't believe it. A fine fig—ahem. Where should she run to? And why run at all?"

Marcia looked a quick distress to Mr. Hampton.

"It is late," she said timidly. "Oh, Pollock! Do you think—"

No longer to be restrained, Hampton left them and went to his room for a rifle and cartridge belt. He intended to slip out quietly, feeling that he would get from Farris's Rogers only the sort of disbelieve him in the hall; she had heard quick steps and guessed that he was coming out. Now clearly, tho she was frightened, she was delighted with him. He had never thrilled her like this before. She had never guessed that Pollock Hampton could be stern-faced, so purposeful. She whispered an entreaty that he be careful, then as he went out, she came back to the others, her eyes shining.

YOUR NAME

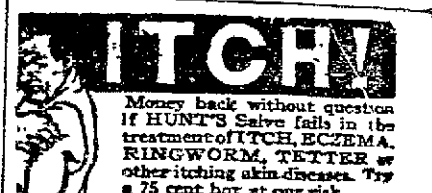

VARIATIONS—Pollinger, Bollinger, Bullinger, Ballinger. RACIAL ORIGIN—Norman-French. SOURCE—An Occupation. The only difference between the original Pullingers and the original Baxters and Bakers was that of language.

Whereas the family name of Baxter is the outgrowth of an old Anglo-Saxon word for woman, baker (though even at that early period used indiscriminately for men and women) the names of Pullinger, Bollinger, Bullinger and Ballinger are all developments of the Norman-French word for baker, "boulanger," or as it was spelled probably just a often in those days, "bulenger."

Such family names as these are purely a development from ancient custom among virtually all races of distinguishing one individual from another of the same given name by mention of his occupation. Occupations in medieval times, of course, were more hereditary even than today as a result of the stabilizing and caste-forming tendencies of the feudal system. It was natural that the son of "Richard le Boulenger" should be known as "Herman le Boulenger," and thus the appellation would be passed down from one generation to another, for all practical purposes constituting a family name long before it came to be adopted consciously as such.

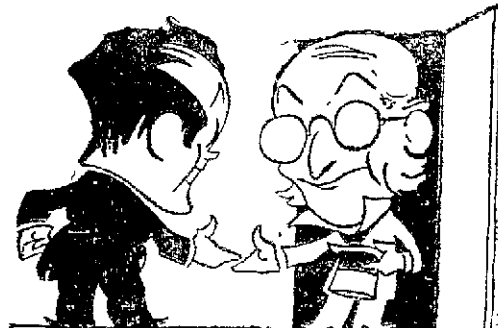

The various occupations in the baking trade have furnished a wide range of modern names, through strangely enough you run across several which must have been common enough but which find little if any development into modern family names; for instance, "Andrew le Pyslakere."

Tomorrow—Smith.

SOCIETY CLUBS HOME

By MARGARET SIMPSON

ONE of the prettiest weddings of the summer was celebrated Wednesday morning at 8 o'clock at St. Gerard's Catholic church, when Miss Kathleen Flavin, eldest daughter of Michael Flavin, became the bride of Edward Finn. The nuptial solemn high mass was celebrated by Rev. John Behr, assisted by Father Crosby and Father Sipple of the Redemptorist order.

Miss Margaret Flavin sister of the bride acted as maid of honor, and Miss Evelyn Leahy was bridesmaid. Little Mary Flavin, youngest sister of the bride was the flower girl. Raymond O'Brien and Edward Walsh were the groom's attendants. The mass was sung by the girls choir with Catherine McFarland as soloist. James L. Henry and Julius Dufresne were ushers.

The bride was charming in white satin, with overdress of silk lace, and a long tulle veil fashioned in coronet style with orange blossoms. She carried a white ivory prayer book. Her flower girl, dressed in dainty white, carried the bride's bouquet of white rosebuds, tied with long streamers of satin ribbon.

Miss Margaret Flavin was dressed in deep lavender organdie, with organdie hat to match, and carried an armful of pink rosebuds, tied with lavender tulle. The bridesmaid, Miss Leahy wore pink organdie with pink organdie hat, and carried pale pink rosebuds, tied with rose tulle. The altar was decorated with pink roses, and the chancel was adorned with palms and ferns. Immediately following the mass, the members of the wedding party, the immediate families and a few intimate guests repaired to the Flavin home on N. Broadway-ave., where a four course breakfast was served. The home was decorated with the pink roses, and the rainbow color scheme was carried out effectively in all of the table appointments.

The bride is one of the most popular of the younger people of St. Gerard's parish, and the church was filled with admiring friends to witness the ceremony. Mr. Finn is a member of the St. Rose parish. Mr. and Mrs. Finn have a pretty new home on Ewing-ave. where they will be at home to their friends after July 10.

Because of a rain storm which broke on Wednesday evening, lawn party was given by Miss Katherine, for pleasure of the houseguests. Beatrice Brown, Wellsville, and Harriet, K. L. Archer, Neb., and Mrs. J. M. Schlegelmuth's guest, Lucille Edwards, Dayton, was converted into an informal evening affair indoors.

The brilliant colored lanterns which decorated the lawn were carried indoors. Dancing and music were enjoyed and the unique contest arranged by the hostess Miss Charlotte Sherwood was successful. Misses Martha Laughlin and Marjorie Green delighted the guests with a gypsy dance in costume and a Spanish dance was given by Miss Virginia Mosher. Mrs. H. M. Kammerer, mother of the hostess, served a buffet luncheon.

Guests were members of the Girl Scout, troop 3 of which the hostess is a member. RUFFLES ARE MOST POPULAR TRIMMING

Every girl wants an all-white frock for summer just as she wants a navy blue frock for winter. The white frock may be plain and simple for sports wear or it may be elaborate and fancy for formal wear, but there must be at least one white frock of some kind in the summer wardrobe. There is a wide range of materials to choose from. Among the most popular are organdie, voile, seersucker, dotted swiss, crepe de chine and dimity.

Here is a very girlish and youthful model made of the finest of French voile. The material is so fine and sheer that it seems like georgette. Aside from the profusion of ruffles the frock is very simple. Row upon row of pleated ruffles on the bodice and on the front of the blouse relieve the plainness of the lines and are full about the neck in the last ruffy touch. A satin sash and a harem skirt are two other features of the frock which make it distinctive. This little model is appropriate for any of the social affairs of the summer months, particularly garden parties and summer dances.

Concerning Investments
America has become a nation of investors, and we make the following suggestion to those who may be contemplating making an investment in stocks or bonds. Be sure that values of the securities you have in mind have tangible, intrinsic worth, convertible into cash if needs be. Good management and "good will" are much to be desired, but always remember that they are personal equations which can crumble overnight in incompetent hands. Our services are at your command in the selection of your investments.

Silk Shirt Fad Rules Among Lima Men, Despite Decree

The silk shirt fad has swept the city. Sales have broken all precedents this spring, despite fashion's decree for madras.

If the very best magazines are consulted, it will be found the madras fashion this year is madras shirts "for the men."

But men are not wearing madras shirts. Far from it. Every nine men out of ten you meet are wearing a silk shirt.

The demand was never so great for silk shirts as it has been the last few months, clerks of the haberdashery say. And the demand is far above the supply.

Notwithstanding that madras shirts wear longer and better than silk shirts the demand continues. Prices on the silk kind begin at $5 and soar as high as $12 and $15 and despite this the people who can least afford the luxury of silk are said to be buying them.

"It isn't the man with a $10,000 income who buys silk," one clerk said. "It's the man who works by the day and earns $30 or $40 a week," he related.

Bright colors designed to make the fastidious totter and hold their heads are the reigning styles. Robin's egg blue, Nile green, canary, yellow, rose pink, hazy green and deep red are the favored colors.

High cost of living experts deplore the tendency. It isn't the silk shirts, they say, as much as what the craze for silk shirts represent in other lines of wearing apparel.

Ear Corn, Cracked Corn, and Shelled Corn at Dorsey's.

Now Declares Her Troubles are Relieved Since Taking the New Medicine Drego.

"I suffered so from dizzy spells and vertigo that I almost fell down stairs on two occasions. My back ached so bad that I had to prop a pillow or cushion against it when I sat down," are the words of a well known lady—Mrs. S. D. Campbell of 206 N. Elizabeth St., Lima, O.

"Several of my friends were so highly pleased with Drego, they persuaded me to take it, and I honestly believe it has been my salvation. I feel like an entirely different person. I lost my appetite and began to get into a highly nervous condition, and got so I didn't even want to look at anything to eat, for the smell and even the sight of cooking made me sick. To get a good night's rest was simply out of the question, and I would lie awake and roll and toss until morning, and then would feel more tired than when I went to bed the night before. I managed to keep my nerves, but many a day it would have felt good to have gone to bed. I was almost a nervous wreck, without energy or strength. Sometimes I felt as if I would soon be dead as a live. As I have said, several of my friends kept after me to try Drego, so I finally consented, and I honestly think it was the only thing that saved me. I am feeling strong and well again and sleep like a rock, and can hardly get enough to eat. My nervousness has entirely disappeared; also the constipation. Drego is a wonderful medicine and every one should know about it."

Drego, the new herbal system tonic, tones up and strengthens the nervous system; invigorates the entire body; removes all impurities from the blood; restores energy and vitality; tones up the digestive organs; puts the stomach in good condition; stimulates the sluggish liver; strengthens the kidneys and soothes tired nerves.

All up to date druggists now sell Drego, and it is highly recommended in Lima by Baldwin's Central Drug Store, corner Main and High streets.

MANDARIN COAT OF PURPLE AND GOLD

The mandarin coat of rich purple with its wonderful embroidery in gold and oriental shadings and splashes of color almost transports one to the lands of the far east. It is made with long flowing sleeves which are covered with intricate designs showing exquisite workmanship. Huge medallions of embroidery trim the robe itself and a novel border edges it. Little oriental slippers of purple embroidered with pretty flowers are worn with this robe.

RECIPES FOR A DAY.

Lima Beans and Pimiento Roast.
Two pounds cooked lima beans, two pounds cottage cheese, two cans red pimientos. Put beans and pimiento thru food chopper. Mix with the cheese and season. Fine bread crumbs may be added to form consistency of a loaf. Bake until firm and brown. Serve with olive and tomato sauce.

Apple and Date Salad.—Five red apples, one box dates, head lettuce, mayonnaise dressing. Pare apples and cut quarters into cubes. Stone and wipe dates, cut each date into four pieces, mix with the cubes of apple. Arrange on individual nests of lettuce.

Martini Potatoes.—Scoop out the inside of four large, hot baked potatoes and force thru a potato ricer. Add one and one-half table spoons of butter substitute, three tablespoons of cream, one egg yolk slightly beaten, one teaspoon of salt, a dash of pepper and a few gratings of nutmeg. Put on the stove and let cook about four minutes, stirring constantly; then add, gradually, the white of the egg, beaten until stiff.

GOOD BREAD.
Potato Bread — Sponge: One cake compressed yeast, one table spoon sugar, one medium sized potato, one tablespoon flour. Boil potato in one and one-half quarts water. When done drain off water. Mash potato and mix flour and sugar and pour over mixture hot water from potato. Let stand until lukewarm and add the cake of yeast which has been standing for ten or fifteen minutes in one-half glass of lukewarm water.

Stir this sponge occasionally before mixing into bread. Should be made about an hour before mixing. To make the bread, take three large sieves flour, one-half cup sugar, two tablespoons salt, five tablespoons lard.

Sift flour into bread-mixing pan. Make hollow in center and pour in the above sponge or yeast, together with sugar, salt, lard.

Mix first with spoon, then knead with hands until a firm dough is obtained. Let rise in warm place from five to eight hours. May be left to rise over night and laid out in loaves in the morning. Will make five loaves bread.

Bake one hour in slow oven. After baking bread, if the loaves are brushed over with water in which a little sugar is placed, the crust will not be hard and dry.

ELSIE FERGUSON ONLY FEATURE

"His House in Order" Weak Vehicle for Beautiful Actress

YOU'VE ALL SEEN THE PLOT

"The Great Accident" Story of Small Town Politics

BY ESTHER WAGNER.

WHETHER Sir Arthur Pinero wrote "His House in Order" or not, as a picture it proves a rather weak vehicle for the beautiful Elsie Ferguson. Other Pinero plays have made good pictures, but this one is conventional and lacking in the plot complications required for five reels of film.

You've seen the same picture screened differently dozens of times. I know. It's the story of the stern and handsome member of parliament, who marries a second wife because he's lonely and thinks his small son needs mothering, but goes on believing his first wife was the only woman and continually making unfavorable comparisons between the two. Then, you remember, he discovers that his first wife had been faithful. So he turns to his married second, remarking brokenly: "And to think that I nearly sacrificed gold for dress" or something like that, whereas Wife the Second forgives him.

Old stuff aside, tho, the offering gains much beauty and a certain amount of interest. The lovely Elsie is as lovely as ever and wears many gorgeous costumes, notably the fancy ball gown. And it certainly is a sermon on the art of hair-dressing. In the first part of the play, with her hair arranged low, Elsie looks like, well like anything but Elsie Ferguson with her hair fixed the way she usually fixes it.

THE outstanding feature of "The Great Accident" showing at the Regent, is the number of remarkable characters used in the plot. A story of small-town politics, it needs many characters of different types to make it realistic and the director has made it a point to secure the players best adapted to the work. Of course, the film really stars Tom Moore, but others in the cast are equally important, such as Ann Forest and Jane Novak. The story relates how a young chap, beloved by all, in spite of his dissipation, is elected mayor of Hardiston, wherever that is. He has a big fight to get there, as the usual number of crooked politicians, without which no picture is complete, try to oust him from his office. All the old enthusiasm and pep that Tom usually shows is evident in this picture, which has enough elements and complications to make it decidedly interesting. Ann Forest as the tearful girl who has been wronged is a little too tearful, but she finds happiness at last thru the efforts of Wint, rather, Tom Moore. It's a good picture right to the final fade-out, which, by the way, is a rather artistic one.

Is your motor cheating?
How to know your motor's secrets

CAN you tell when you are wasting power? How do you know all your cylinders are doing their full work? You may be wasting power and not know it. That means wasting gas and money.

your motor is. Put a G-Piel Cut-Out on your car. It will tell your motor's secrets. Then you can detect the quality of every explosion—you can be sure every cylinder is doing its full work.

There is only one efficient way to tell just how healthy
